School of Business and Information Systems

Preparing students with strong foundational skills that will lead to careers that serve communities at the local and international levels.

The School of Business and Information Systems is one of the academic units at Southwestern College. It is composed of three departments:

- Accounting and Business Administration
- Computer Information Systems, Computer Aided Design and Drafting, and Electronics
- Office Information Systems

Each department offers preparation in several career options that allow students interesting and well-paid careers through a variety of certificate, degree, and transfer programs.

Mission

Our mission is to establish in our graduates a strong foundation of skills, an attitude of service, and a strong sense of business ethics as well as to offer the community excellent programs that prepare students for careers in the dynamic and increasingly global business and technical environment. The faculty, staff, and administration desire that our students take pride in gaining an excellent education in our School and that business and industry view the School of Business and Information Systems as an outstanding source of well-prepared employees.

We are proud to offer a variety of programs with the knowledge that students will receive excellent training. Join us now and prepare to become a professional and leader who will be able to meet the challenges of the future.

About Southwestern College

Student Body

SWC's student body of more than 19,000 spans all age groups, nationalities, and educational backgrounds. This heterogeneous mix is one of the distinguishing features of the SWC campus, where students with diverse backgrounds benefit from one another's experiences. Ethnic students comprise 83 percent of all enrollments; the average age is 27.

Educational Costs

Full-time students, who are California residents, pay about $300* per semester for enrollment and fees. There are a number of Financial Aid programs available to help pay for enrollment, books, transportation and other costs. Funds are provided by the federal and state governments in the form of loans, grants and on-campus jobs. Call the Financial Aid office, 619-482-6357, for more information.

Application Process

If you are 18 years of age or older, or a high school graduate, you can enroll at Southwestern College. Just fill out an application at the Southwestern College Admissions Center, Education Center at San Ysidro, or Higher Education Center at National City.

Educational Options

Students may choose from a variety of academic pathways and majors leading to an associate degree, vocational certification and/or transfer to a four-year college or university. SWC offers more than 285 degree and certificate options.

The District

The Southwestern Community College District is part of the California Community College System. There are 108 publicly funded two-year colleges in California.

Accreditation

Southwestern College has been accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges since 1964 and is approved by the California State Department of Education.
