Gonfalon Flags

A gonfalon is a medieval banner originally used by 11th and 12th century Italian city-states. Later, gonfalons were adopted by Italian guilds, corporations and sub-districts. Gonfalons often include badges or coat of arms. Gonfalons are used in ceremonies at the University of Chicago, Rowan University, Rutgers University, Princeton University, the University of Toronto, the University of St. Thomas, and now, Southwestern College.

The gonfalons being carried today represent each of the college's six schools and the three Higher Education Centers. Carrying the flags are honor students from each of the six schools and centers.

Academic Costume

Traditions of academic costume began in medieval Europe. When students in the universities of Paris, Bologna, Oxford and Cambridge began to organize into guilds, they developed distinctive costumes for bachelors (apprentices), masters (teachers) and doctors (teachers who had completed postgraduate study).

American use has been standardized by an intercollegiate code, which takes the Oxford costume as a starting point. The bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves, and the master's gown oblong sleeves, open at the wrist. Both are untrimmed. The doctor's gown has round, open sleeves, with three bars of velvet and velvet facing. The gown is normally black but some institutions have adopted colored gowns.

The academic hood also found its beginnings in the unheated medieval classrooms of England. Its original purpose was as a head covering to provide warmth before it was replaced by the mortarboard. The hood is now worn around the neck and down the back and indicates both the degree held and the institution from which it was granted. All hoods are black and lined in satin with the color(s) of the institution that conferred the wearer's degree. The color of the velvet trimming on the hood represents the field in which the degree was granted. The style of the hood varies with the degree level.

2022 HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Manuel "Memo" Cavada

Like any exceptional photographer, Manuel “Memo” Cavada was unobtrusive even when he was anywhere and everywhere documenting the life and culture of South County. Cavada, who discovered his passion for photography while a student at Sacramento City College, photographed the personal and professional lives of all the “Who’s Who” from San Diego to the border. As important for him, as well, was creating special memories for the hundreds of Sweetwater High School students taking their senior portraits.

"Everyone needs a good photo of their special moments," Cavada would say.

His daughter, Jennifer, lovingly remembers that Memo would use the time taking senior portraits to also give students a lecture about going to college. Attending community college was transformative for Cavada, as it was there that one of his professors introduced him to famous photographer Ansel Adams.

Mentor Adams and protégé Cavada would sit quietly for hours waiting for wildlife to drink from mountain streams. It was these early-career experiences that laid the foundation for Cavada's own artistic journey through Mexico.

Cavada traveled throughout Mexico to capture the ordinary and extraordinary on film, and later digitally. Photos of 300-year-old adobe churches stocked with hand-carved santos, a Oaxacan woman with colorful jars of sweet drinks for sale and children performing ballet folklórico filled his portfolio. His photos of the Monarch butterfly migration in Michoacán were later on display at the Southwestern College library.

Cavada's legacy was on full display during his memorial service when he died in October 2020. In the height of COVID, an entire community gathered outdoors at La Vista Memorial Park while a host of others watched the service on livestream.

"I was taken aback by the impact he had on so many people and how many people loved him," Jennifer said. "It was a reflection of how much he helped other people."

For his meritorious contributions to human relations, education, performing, visual and literary arts, the Southwestern College Governing Board confers an honorary degree upon Manuel "Memo" Cavada.

2022 HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Carmen Martinez

More than 50 years ago, seven immigrant women in San Ysidro changed their community forever. These women called themselves el Club de Madres and made it their mission to bring affordable and culturally-appropriate healthcare to the families and children of San Ysidro, a community with zero access to health services at that time.

In 1969, el Club de Madres opened the Casita at 223 Mesa Boulevard in San Ysidro. Approximately 40 patients were seen each day by three volunteer nurses and two physicians. Carmen Martinez, the 98-year-old last living member of el Club de Madres, sees the clinic as her greatest accomplishment in life.

“Our whole community wanted a clinic for our families who lived here,” Martinez said. “We had nothing here in San Ysidro, no doctors, no healthcare. I feel so happy and privileged that we now have so many facilities serving our community.”

For her dedication, strength and courage to bring affordable healthcare to San Ysidro and the region, Carmen Martinez is being awarded Southwestern College’s 2022 honorary degree—Southwestern College’s highest honor.

Martinez herself has been a strong advocate for education, pushing her children and grandchildren to pursue their education. Having no formal education herself, Martinez said receiving an honorary degree from Southwestern College is a tremendous milestone.

“It’s better to have a diploma than a million dollars,” she said. “It’s a privilege to study and to be recognized with a diploma that you earn. No one can take that away from you.”

Martinez was nominated by Architecture Professor Diana Arredondo who called her a remarkable woman who was instrumental in saving many lives in San Diego.

“Carmen is an exemplary woman who fought for her community’s access to healthcare,” Arredondo said. “She encourages others to use the gifts, talents and abilities within them to make a difference in their communities.”

Today, San Ysidro Health is a non-profit healthcare service provider with 47 sites across San Diego and serves more than 108,000 patients. Its mission is to “improve the health and well-being of the communities we serve with access to all.”
